FAMILY WEDDING, STAG PARTY, PROSPEROUS OPENING

NOVEL LUNCHEON

Truly original was the affair given by Mrs. C. Saunders for her visiting sister, Mrs. A. W. Rosencrans of Chicago, in the way of a cafeteria luncheon, Wednesday, at the Saunders' home on Brand boulevard. Crystal bowls containing pink blooms of geraniums and foliage brightened the living and dining rooms, where the guests spent several happy hours. Needlework, conversation and several vocal selections by Mrs. Rosencrans, who is widely known in musical circles of her home city, were enjoyed during the course of the afternoon. The delightfully original hostess provided trays for Mrs. Rosencrans, honoree, Mrs. T. Glenn, Mrs. Herbert Reed, Mrs. H. Lee Clotworthy, Mrs. J. F. Hearnshaw, Mrs. A. Parker, Mrs. G. D. Roach, Mrs. Ray, Mrs. Muhleman, Miss Leo Lundy, Miss Clara Ringer, of Glendale, and Los Angeles guests were Mrs. F. Heck, Mrs. William Peet, Mrs. Henry Sanders, Mrs. M. Viohl, Mrs. Chas. Plant and Mrs. Shively.

FAMILY WEDDING

Dick S. Mills, son of Mrs. J. Mills, 414 S. Louise street, and Florence Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dunn of Hillsdale, Mich., were quietly wedded at the home of the bride's mother, 432 Broadway, Thursday night. Judge Miller solemnized the union. The service took place in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom. The bride was dressed in pale blue silk. The home was tastefully decorated with chrysanthemums, cosmos and ferns. The young couple received many handsome presents. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding supper was enjoyed by all. The newly wedded pair will reside at 432 Broadway.

YELLOW AND WHITE

An afternoon at 500 was greatly enjoyed on Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Wm. B. Crocker, as hostess in her home at 121 South Cedar street, had as guests Mesdames Dan M. Devore, J. H. Jack, T. J. Cushing, Jones, Elizabeth Brown, Frank Zen and Miss Angie Zen. The oval supper board was covered with an elegant lace cloth in center of which was a mound of huge feathery yellow and white chrysanthemums from which peeped dainty green ferns. The same blossoms were used in the other rooms occupied by the bidden guests.

HAD GOOD OPENING DAY

Mr. Chambers, assistant manager of the Chaffee stores, who is in Glendale at present organizing Store No. 17, says that the opening day of the new store, on Brand boulevard, was the greatest success in the history of his firm. Not only was the number of patrons greater than on any other of their opening days, but the volume of business was also greater. The new store hopes to get a great part of the cash business that has been going to Los Angeles.

"500" WILL ENTERTAIN

Delightfully informal will be the card party presided over by Mesdames Willis M. Kimball, C. H. Woolsey, C. O. Pulliam, J. Herbert Smith, Robert Kimball and Ella Richardson, at the home of Mrs. Kimball, 1303 Maple avenue, in benefit for the Thursday Afternoon club. Chrysanthemums will be used throughout the rooms, where card tables have been arranged, and the repast will be served at the small tables.

I. O. O. F. STAG PARTY

What turned out to be a pleasant entertainment was enjoyed Thursday evening by the male members of the I. O. O. F., in their commodious hall on Third street. There were about 80 present. Deputations also from Los Angeles and Burbank were present. Mr. W. J. Slausner, deputy grand master of the state organization, told of his joining the I. O. O. F. and of the consolidating effect it had on his character. He advised young men and married men alike to join. The evening was spent in music and games. The excellent pool room afforded much enjoyment to those who preferred that game. The pool room is well patronized and the clubrooms are a favorite meeting place for business men. A light supper was served at 9:30 and a pleasant social hour passed. Thorpe's orchestra furnished music and later in the evening an old-time band, consisting of Bell Waldron, guitar; Dan Link, violin, and Bert Shaffer, piano, made things merry with their music.

GERM OF DIPHTHERIA

U. S. PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE SAYS BACILLUS OF DISEASE IS WIDESPREAD

It has long been known that diphtheria germs are present in the throats of many perfectly healthy persons and that many cases of this disease may be accounted for only by their infection from such carriers. To what extent these germs occur among healthy persons has been a point that has never been definitely determined, some persons claiming that as many as one in every twenty persons carried these germs and distributed them more or less indiscriminately. To determine this point the U. S. public health service conducted an investigation of the prevalence of diphtheria carriers in the city of Detroit during the winter of 1913-14. This investigation stands as one of the most thorough and painstaking researches of its kind.

Should this report be read by all of the inhabitants of Detroit over 4000 of them would recall the visit of the health officer who examined their noses and throats and took cultures from both locations.

In the laboratory the officers of the service examined the 8758 cultures taken from 4093 persons; five bacteriologists examined the "smears" from an average of 158 cultures a day. The results of this examination were that very nearly one per cent—928 per cent, to be exact—of all the persons examined were found to carry diphtheria germs in their throat or nose or both.

One per cent does not ordinarily sound large to the average person, but let us see what it means to the individual. In time of epidemic prevalence probably one in every hundred persons he meets has diphtheria germs in his throat and in all probability on his hands and clothes as well, since it is one of the most common practices in the world to put the hand to the mouth. It is probable that the average individual comes in contact with a hundred or more persons every day and is hence practically daily exposed to infection with diphtheria. Some persons, mainly those remaining at home, associate with but few, but other members of the household are not so isolated. School children come in close contact often with more than a hundred others in a day. Occasionally one may even see a hundred persons on a single street car and none would doubt that many more than that number will cough into the air of a moving picture theater during an evening.

To demonstrate further what one per cent means, let us see what are the actual figures. In 1914 the official census of Detroit was 537,650. One per cent of this is 5376. It would be difficult indeed for any one living in Detroit to avoid contact with one, two, five or more of these 5376 disseminators of diphtheria germs. Nor is there reason to believe that in time of epidemic the figures for any other large community are lower in proportion.

These data gathered by the Public Health Service, as well as data of the same nature obtained by other workers, demonstrate one of many reasons for personal care of the throat and nose, avoidance of too intimate contact with others, and the necessity of early preventive measures in the case of those suffering from "sore-throat" and lesions suspicious of diphtheria.

PERISHED IN THE ROCKIES

Swallowed up in the fastnesses of the Rocky mountains and long ago given up as dead, the mysterious disappearance of Dr. Thornton R. Sampson of Austin, Texas, has become today a part of the lore of these historic hills. Explanations of his accidentally having lost his way and perished from starvation have weakened under the most thorough searches.

The weirdest of many weird stories is that Rev. Sampson was murdered by a hermit in the hills above Estes. The Texan, himself, in one of his last letters to his wife, mentioned a "queer" companion. Dr. Sampson was a friend of President Wilson. Snow has fallen over the section of the range in which he was lost and experienced mountaineers hold out no hope that he will ever be found alive.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville McPherson and their two children, Donald and Catherine, of Lowell, Mich., who have been visiting the coast, coming by way of San Francisco and the exposition, were guests during the past few days of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McRae, 1436 Salem street. The McPhersons have gone on to San Diego and will return home by way of the Grand Canyon.

WANTS WORKING ARMY

GEORGE H. MAXWELL ADVOCATES HOMECROFT RESERVE SYSTEM FOR THE UNITED STATES

Addressing a largely attended gathering of the Glendale Garden Society and others interested in horticultural, agricultural and conservation subjects, in the High School, Thursday night, Mr. George Maxwell, ex-director of the National Reclamation Association and at present lecturer at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, gave a most interesting lecture on the subject of the creation of a working army for national defense.

Mrs. Nanno Woods, president of the Glendale Garden Society, presided and introduced Mr. Maxwell. She also explained the objects of the Garden Society and urged her auditors to become members, intimating that the next meeting would be on the first Thursday in December.

Mr. Maxwell said that twenty years ago when he was interested in reclamation problems, and specially with bringing the submerged population of the big cities to the vacant lands of the West, he found himself confronted with the problem of the deterioration of the American race, which was so visible in the great cities of the land. He saw industry destroying humanity and again he saw in the Far West, in California, a region where people could have land enough on which to live and make a living at some industry. In Los Angeles, for instance, he saw people living on 50-foot lots and by intensive cultivation getting out of the soil all that could be got. In part, such a system would solve the high cost of living.

Mr. Maxwell's views on national defense are well known. They have been stated in these columns several times. They include the creation of a working army, an army of efficient workers, with military training, which will have inspiration from the development of their own land, and will absorb patriotism and national ideals by the peaceful conquest of the forces of nature rather than by the stimulus of war.

Mr. Maxwell advocated a citizen soldiery, trained and inured in advance to the real hardships of war; and ready at a moment's notice to march to the defense of the country. At present the United States army, he said, consisting of about 50,000 effectives, cost as much as an army of 1,000,000 men in Japan. In Europe the same sum maintains an army of 500,000 with reserves of regulars varying from 2,000,000 to 5,000,000.

He pointed out that the population of China was about 500,000,000 and that China is constantly improving the condition of her people and making possible a still greater population. In 50 years Japan would have a population of 100,000,000. Already she has reached the limit of keeping her population in her own country and has eyes on the Pacific coast.

As a safeguard against this possibility the lecturer advocated the building up of a strong, healthy, outdoors peace army, engaged in fighting the ravages of nature in the way of floods and forest fires; constructing barriers in the mountains to catch the surplus waters; reclaiming land in the desert wastes, confining the destructive floods to the river beds;—great camps of a constructive army of peace, inured to wholesome hardship, and drilled sufficiently in military tactics, serving the state as soldiers of the common good and ready for defense whenever defense may be required.

Among many other suggestions thrown out by Mr. Maxwell was the idea that playgrounds could be abolished with advantage and the children set to harden their muscles and improve their health in making gardens and cultivating them. The monkey, he said, had for thousands of years been disporting himself in the finest playgrounds in the world; he had natural trapezes and exercise devices of a better kind and on a much larger scale than those in the school grounds; but during all those thousands of years his mental development had been at a standstill. Mr. Maxwell would abolish the playground and substitute the vegetable gardens as both a mental and physical gymnasium.

This idea, cleverly put as it was, did not seem to meet with the entire approval of the audience, as they argued that up to this point there had been nothing to take the place of the playground and that the children had there gained health and that relaxation without which life would be slavery. While approving of the idea of getting the children to interest themselves in garden work and in the building up of a system of home agriculture that would make the family independent of the food stores, that hitherto, at least, the

EVENTS OF THE DAY

FIRES, ACCIDENTS, OBITUARY, ECCLESIASTICAL, WEATHER

TWO FIRES LAST NIGHT

Glendale fire department was summoned to two fires last night. The first was a small affair, at 438 Isabel street, in the house occupied by Mr. B. R. Fellows. The fire was caused by an overheated stove pipe. The house, which is a two-story frame dwelling, was damaged to the extent of $10 and the furniture to the extent of $80. The firemen extinguished the fire with the garden hose. Fire Chief A. H. Lankford and firemen Emil Schroeder, Walter Eves and Emil Kiefer attended to the alarm.

About an hour after the department had returned from the Isabel street fire another alarm was turned in. This was about 9 p. m. Chief Lankford, and firemen Schroeder, Eves and Flower responded. The fire was at 443 Glendale avenue in the two-story house occupied by Mrs. M. Shaw. The building was damaged to the extent of $600 and the furniture to the extent of $300. Both building and contents were insured.

MRS. CHAS. M. STANLEY HURT

Mrs. Stanley, of 336 Everett street, and well known throughout the city, is in the Glendale Sanatorium as the result of strains and bruises inflicted when she made a mis-step on the Burbank Line trestle yesterday afternoon while walking with her niece, Miss Helen Morris, of Chicago. Last night's Los Angeles Express, so informed by Miss Morris, enlarged upon things. The two ladies were crossing the trestle and looking back saw a Burbank car approaching in the distance. Mrs. Stanley missed her footing and fell the distance of about four feet, not ten, but in so doing was badly bruised and suffered a severe nervous shock. Miss Morris jumped and was absolutely unhurt. Reports received today state that Mrs. Stanley is resting comfortably.

"FROM BEHIND THE BARS"

The pastor, B. Dudley Snudden, spoke at the special mission services at the First Methodist Church last night. He took as his theme, "From Behind the Bars." His hearers listened intently as he dwelt on the things that hold men captive, and pointed out the majesty of real human freedom. He said that "when the Bible speaks of making men free it must have some great thought in view, or else, in spite of their beauty and sublimity, the Bible messages are of no avail. Men sing 'Britons never, never shall be slaves,' and 'The star spangled banner in triumph shall wave, O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.' And yet, in the lands over which these flags float, millions of men are prisoners of appetites, passions and sins."

The speaker showed how men were prisoners of their moods, of customs; captives of doubt, and slaves of desires.

The service tonight will be in charge of a group of young men from the University of Southern California. The gospel and the young man is always an interesting theme. The young men of this team are young men worth while, red-blooded, virile fellows, with enthusiasm and "pep." Does Christianity mean anything for them, or is it a concern for mollycoddles? Ask them what is a mollycoddle. Hear this bunch of fellows.

DEATH OF V. B. GAMMEL

Vernon B. Gammel, of 540 W. Tenth street, Tropic, died at his home Tuesday, Nov. 16. He was 34 years of age, having been born Nov. 4, 1881. Mr. Gammel, who was married, had resided six years in California and one year in Glendale. Deceased was an expert switchboard man in the employment of the Sunset Telegraph company in Los Angeles. The funeral will be from the Pulliam Funeral parlors, Friday, Nov. 19, at 3:30 p. m. The brethren of the local Masonic lodge will attend the funeral and hold the usual service at the grave, in Forest Lawn. The deceased had been a member of the Masonic lodge in Marion, Mo.

school playground had done excellent work and was by no means to be despised as a training school.

The lecturer, after an exhaustive presentation of his subject, showed a large number of excellent stereoscopic pictures of subjects illustrating the conservation, irrigation, flood and reforestation problems of the country; also interesting pictures of the homecroft system and home gardens throughout the different states. The large audience listened with profound attention to the lecturer and heartily applauded him at times.

MISSIONARY MEETING AND SOCIAL

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held its regular meeting Thursday afternoon, in the church parlors. The program, which was in charge of Mrs. G. F. Taylor and Mrs. C. D. Shattuck, was most interesting. Mrs. Snudden gave an instructive talk on, "Where our money goes." Mrs. Potter, Mrs. Noysse and Mrs. Goss read from the literature for November. Miss Helen Ingledue gave a reading and responded to an encore.

At half past six the members, with their husbands and other guests, were invited to the social hall of the church, where a well-prepared dinner was served. Plates for seventy were laid at the two long, nicely decorated tables and a thoroughly good time was enjoyed.

Everything is being donated for the Knights Templar Christmas Charity ball, which is to be held December 2, so there will be no expense. Every cent of the proceeds will be used to buy toys and Christmas cheer for the poor children of Glendale, who would otherwise have a sad Christmas. The number of gifts distributed among these children at Christmas will depend upon the generosity of the people of Glendale in patronizing this affair.

On Sunday the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Congregational Church will celebrate their annual "bank offering" at the morning service. An excellent number on the program will be vocal and instrumental selections by seven Chinese children, in costume. The instruments are not of their native land, however.

Mrs. Marjorie Kelan of Los Angeles has been visiting at the home of Mrs. Joseph Guidinger, 238 S. Maryland street, during the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Barrows, 443 W. Colorado boulevard, returned this week from a visit to San Diego, where they had the pleasure of hearing Signor Florencio Constantino sing at the Exposition. Mrs. Barrows says Constantino's magnificent singing was welcomed with rapturous applause.

RED CROSS WORK

It would seem from the following letter than there are various people who are alive to the necessities of the sufferers from the war in Europe. The society referred to by Mr. Oliver was instituted as a branch of the Red Cross work, pure and simple, and is working in connection with that society. There is opportunity for all manner of organizations in connection with this work and they are all evidently working toward the same end. Mr. Arthur Oliver writes as follows:

I wonder how many residents of the city are aware that a society of this purpose was formed on January 12, 1915, by the organization called the Sons and Daughters of the British Empire. This auxiliary to the mother society was for the general relief and the distribution of money and clothes to the needy, etc., in the warring countries.

It is a peculiar coincidence that a few days before the publication of the above article arrangements were almost perfected for a grand concert to be given during the coming week, under the auspices of the Sons and Daughters of the British Empire to further induce the people of this city to greater efforts in aid of their Red Cross and general relief work. The proceeds of this concert will do much to allay the sufferings of those poor people either wounded in battle or made homeless by the war. We, the people of this country, in our contentment, cannot properly focus our somewhat distorted vision of things to bear upon the scenes of most utter desolation, the millions killed, the thousands of homes that have been wrecked, those millions that have been deprived of their all and made destitute looking in vain for that assistance which may never come.

Now we wish every one to be a party to the concert, not only to listen to the beautiful music, but to have a greater satisfaction while you are eating Thanksgiving dinner of knowing that you assisted in some way in giving relief to those people who are at this moment looking in expectation to us.

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE.
 Arthur L. Oliver, Secy.
 THE TROUBLE

"What's the matter?" asked the cannibal chief as his prime minister choked on his mouthful of roast missionary.

"Oh, nothing much," replied his minister, as soon as he got his breath; "only another good man gone the wrong way."

NORTH GLENDALE

The Casa Verdugo First M. E. Church has entered the Label Saving Campaign and ask all those interested in their securing one of the many cash prizes offered to save the labels for them, also to register to their credit at 817 South Broadway, Los Angeles. Any one desiring information in regard to the kinds of labels to be saved and other features of the campaign can call Mrs. John Rockhold, 1430 Burchett street, Mrs. D. A. Watt of Valley View road or the pastor, Dr. Soper, 1395 North Maryland avenue. Members of the church and friends, whether here or in Los Angeles, can participate in this campaign.

On Wednesday evening of this week Mrs. L. H. Wadsworth, of 1017 Fairview avenue, entertained at dinner in honor of her daughter, Miss Ruth, who celebrated her fourteenth birthday on that date. White chrysanthemums were used very effectively to decorate the attractive home, the same beautiful flower being in evidence on the daintily arranged table, where covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Price of Dryden St., Miss Lucille Kingley, Miss Alma Moore, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wadsworth and the happy honoree, who was the recipient of many beautiful gifts in memory of the occasion and the best wishes of all present.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilson, Jr., of 1636 Ruth street, were Los Angeles visitors last Tuesday evening, where they enjoyed attending one of the popular theaters.

Mr. S. Beck of Los Angeles has purchased the property formerly owned by Mr. F. DeWitt Moon, at 1657 Ruth street.

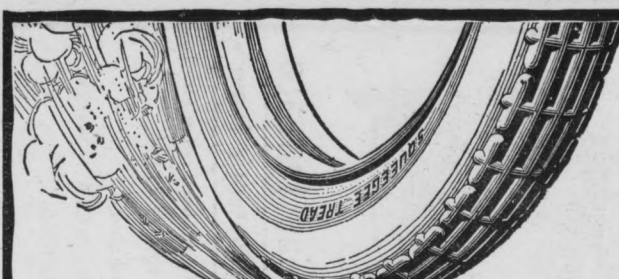

Mrs. J. E. Eckles of 920 North Central avenue was the luncheon guest of Mrs. Howard P. Alston, of Berkeley avenue, Edendale, on Thursday.

Ladies' Aid of Casa Verdugo M. E. Church held their regular monthly business meeting in the church on Thursday afternoon. A good attendance and interesting meeting was held. Dr. Julius Soper addressed the ladies.

Mr. Lewis Cadwallader of 1624 Ruth street has been confined to his home with a severe attack of la-grippe during the past week.

PARENT-TEACHER

Mrs. J. W. West, president of the Parent-Teacher association of the Central Avenue school, presided at the regular monthly meeting on this, Thursday, afternoon. After interesting business had been discussed the "question box" was produced, questions and answers proving most interesting and instructive. Prof. Richardson D. White was in attendance as a special guest. A most pleasing piano program was arranged and given by Richard Berry of 525 N. Louise street, who is an advanced pupil of Prof. A. Hastings of Los Angeles. Berry's first number was the difficult arrangement of "Butterfly," by C. Lavalley. Miss Annie McIntyre, principal of the school, had been chosen as a committee of one by the association to select and purchase a suitable picture for the school. On this afternoon she presented in a charming manner a "child's favorite," "The Boy With the Rabbit," by Sir Henry Reaburn. Refreshments were served by the reciprocity committee and social hour enjoyed.

Have your tires been 99% satisfactory during the past two years?

If in 1914 and 1915 you have used ten tires and one has "gone bad," you have only been 90% satisfied. If two have "gone bad," your score is reduced to 80%.

In 1914 and 1915, out of every million Diamond Squeegie Tread Tires, 990,000, or 99% have made good.

Was your percentage that high?

If nine friends and yourself had between you, in 1914 and 1915, bought 100 Diamond Squeegies for your cars, but one tire out of the whole lot would have required adjusting.

If it takes you 15 years to use up 100 tires yourself, in all those years only one Diamond Squeegie will cause you any trouble.

These are facts based on the law of averages—upon which billions are invested in the life insurance business.

Start using Diamond Squeegies. You can't beat "99% satisfaction" in the tire business.
